SPIRITS LIST

Arak

ARAK is an anise-flavored aperitif commonly enjoyed in the Levant. It is a clear and colorless, and typically distilled from grapes.

HOW IT'S SERVED: Traditionally, arak is mixed with a ratio of 1/3 arak to 2/3 water then poured into small, ice-filled cups. Emulsification of the anise oils turns the spirit a milky-white color when mixed with water, earning arak the nickname "the milk of lions."
